PRESENTS

INDIA LABOUR CONFERENCE 2024

 January 19-20, 2024  IIM Kozhikode

Covid 19 have experienced unprecedented challenges of migrant labour, particularly inter-state migration. While the migrant labourers were left in the lurch, labourers were required to walk unreasonable miles with their kith and kin to survive. The story of rural to urban and the cyclical migrant labourers are also nothing less worrisome. IIMK's Centre for Employment Relations and Labour Studies in its maiden year wants to draw the focus on the migrant labour their issues, policies and roles of different stake holders and aim to contribute to a better labour relations process.

The Centre invites academicians, policymakers, trade union leaders, business leaders, managers, government bodies, and scholars to present their ideas, case studies and research papers on the following topics (not restricted to):

TOPICS

- ▶ Labour migration flows (permanent, temporary, circular and return)
- ▶ How the Covid Pandemic has affected migrants in India?
- ▶ What are the migrant strategies of adaption?
- ▶ What is the approach of trade unions to organize and represent migrants?
- ▶ How do migrants respond to competitive labour market norms?
- ▶ How does the migrant affect the labour market?
- ▶ Migrant labour and their psychological contract
- ▶ NGOs and their role in dealing with migration and migrant labour issues
- ▶ Local government, labour office and the way they deal with migrant labour (labour administration)
- ▶ Socio-economic and legal implications on families of migrant workers
- ▶ Gender and migration
- ▶ Wages of migrant labour
